

8th Annual CITYWIDE HPOZ CONFERENCE

Sponsored by the Los Angeles Department of City Planning and the Los Angeles Conservancy

Saturday, May 30, 2009

Join us for a day of workshops, tours, and networking to learn more about how to protect the unique character of your historic neighborhood. Open to anyone interested in the City's Historic Preservation Overlay Zones (HPOZs), or historic districts, the 2009 conference will include:

- The first-ever HPOZ Awards Luncheon, honoring outstanding projects within the city's 24 HPOZs
- Pico Union Walking Tours, including the Alvarado Terrace National Register District
- Updates on activities in all HPOZs citywide
- Hands-on workshop on window repair
- Breakout sessions addressing:
 - Introduction to the basics of HPOZs for homeowners and residents
 - Advice for new and proposed HPOZs
 - Advanced sessions for current HPOZ Board Members

This conference is for you if:

- You live in an HPOZ and want to learn more about how it works
- You're on the Board of an HPOZ (all Board Members are expected to attend)
- You're in the process of forming an HPOZ
- You're interested in forming an HPOZ to protect the historic character of your neighborhood

Location:

Pico Union HPOZ
Angelica Lutheran Church

1345 S. Burlington Avenue, L.A., 90006

Time:

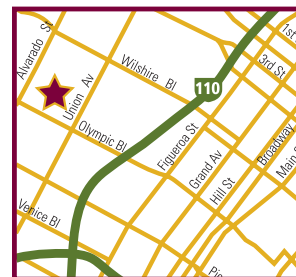

8:30 a.m. - 4:00 p.m.

Cost:

$20 (includes continental breakfast & lunch)

To Register, please visit:

laconservancy.org/neighborhoods or contact Flora Chou at fchou@laconservancy.org or (213) 430-4211 by May 16, 2009

Limited parking available in
on-site lot, with additional parking available on surrounding streets